

Welcome from the Office of the Dean in the School of Business and Public Administration

I am delighted to be fully back in person for the 2022-23 academic year as your newly appointed Interim Dean, I am honored to report that the School of Business and Public Administration is on the move with great things in store. I first want to thank Dr. John Stark for his diligent and steadfast leadership in this role for the past four years. Dr. Stark was instrumental in the forward-driven growth of our school, and I wish him continued success. I also congratulate our newly appointed Interim Associate Dean, Dr. Lori Paris. She brings a wealth of expertise and an exemplary work ethic. I know she will be excellent in her new role. Congratulations are also in order for Dr. Di Wu, Associate Professor of Accounting, on his new position as Department Chair of Accounting and Finance, and Dr. Yong Choi on his new position as Interim MBA Program Director. Thank you, Dr. Dan Zhou for all of your dedicated services to our Accounting and Finance Department and MBA program. I also congratulate Belen Mendola on her new role as BPA Advising Center Coordinator and Maria Diaz for her temporary role as the Administrative Support Coordinator for the Dean's Office. Welcome to our new faculty and staff on board: Dr. Joanne Choi, Assistant Professor of Accounting, Dr. Sunjin Pak, Assistant Professor of Marketing and Management, and Karla Yung, Public Affairs/Communications Specialist. I must also acknowledge all faculty and staff in the BPA for the important work they do.

Congratulations to all our Fall 2022 graduates. I charge you to continue with all the tools you received during your collegiate experience and thrive in your chosen career or continued educational path. Give back and leave your influential mark to inspire others.

Continuing students of BPA, for the Spring 2023 semester, expect to see brilliant faculty eager to provide a robust educational experience. Expect our staff and advisors to provide exceptional service toward your success. One of our goals is to guide your academic journey through seamless retention. While you are here at CSUB, BPA aims to provide you with all the necessary tools to graduate and be successful in your chosen career path.

Sincerely,
Dr. John Stark
Interim Dean

Student Highlights

Jacqueline Agullar
Master of Public Administration

Jacqueline Agullar graduated from CSUB with her bachelor's in Business Administration in the Fall of 2020. She continued with the MPA program in the winter of 2021. After much government involvement and civic engagement, she's pursuing her passion in government and public affairs for one of Central California's top strategic communications firm.

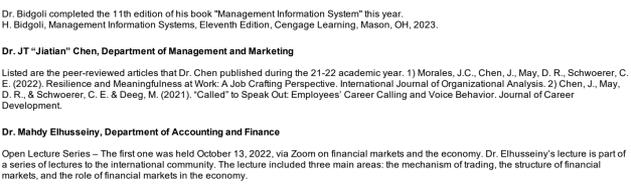

"Being a first-generation Latina and pursuing higher education, I encountered many barriers while rising to these leadership positions. But, I had to set those aside and be the resilient & fearless daughter of immigrants my parents taught me to be in order to work, do for my communities, and be the representation that encompasses the Central Valley. I am proud to be the first in my family to earn a master's degree and I hope to inspire others with my story and encourage other Latinas to fight for their space in higher education and leadership roles.

Faculty from CSUB, along with local government leaders, played a key role in mentoring and guiding me along the path of career success, and I hope to be that voice for other students as well. My experience in the MPA program has prepared me to take the initiative in improving social fairness and play a critical role as a voice for my community. I look forward to growing my career in public administration by focusing on empowering others to increase their community impact through leadership, education, and advocacy strategies. Every journey will present major challenges, but I am here to encourage every young Latina to keep fighting despite all odds."

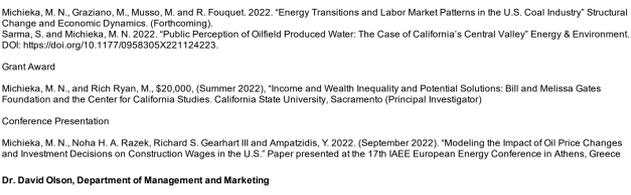

Genevieve Branco
Master of Science, Health Care Administration

Genevieve is graduating with her Master of Science in Health Care Administration with a 4.0 GPA. She has worked in healthcare leadership for 11 years, in acute and post-acute rehabilitation. She is eager to use her education to continue to advocate for patients to gain more access to rehabilitative care after an accident, illness, or injury. She currently works for the Centre for Neuro Skills in patient acquisition and hopes to continue to grow with her company.

Anthony Estrada
Master of Business Administration

Anthony Estrada is a 24-year-old Bakersfield native, and he is pursuing a bachelor's in the Kern County Fire Department. He was set to start the fire academy in January of 2023. Before he enrolled in the master's program, he received his B.S. in Business Administration with a concentration in Finance in May of 2021. Upon graduation, he worked as a wildland firefighter for the summer and then came back to enroll in the master's program. After graduating, he will join the KCFD!

Aaron Falk
Master of Business Administration

"I feel like CSUB is a part of me," he said. "This was a good experience. I learned a lot and I've met some really great people." Falk's journey to CSUB wasn't a straightforward one. He earned his bachelor's in political science from University of California, Santa Barbara in 2010 and was initially planning to go to law school and become a lawyer like his parents. However, Falk ultimately decided to opt for a different path. Falk made his status permanent, hired as a local representative by Congressman Kevin McCarthy. In 2020, he made a career change, applying to CSUB's MBA program, and in 2021 getting hired as the president and CEO of Kern Community Foundation. He says it was just the opportunity he was looking for in his desire to have an immediate positive impact on the community.

Nicolas Carver
Bachelor of Science, Business Administration (Marketing)

Nicolas Carver will receive his Bachelor of Science in Business Administration with a Concentration in Marketing. He transferred from Taft College, so he didn't begin his academic career at CSUB, but he is pleased to say that he is finishing up a portion of it there. "My background is extensive, many special visits to businesses and other organizations in Italy and the other was a Diversity in Organizations course with exceptional visits to numerous obstacles and felt as though I had reached rock bottom. For this reason, I returned to school to complete my degree, and it was the wisest decision I ever made. After graduation, I intend to travel overseas and explore whilst also living abroad, hone my talents, and then utilize my skills acquired in this prestigious institution but also from my life journey to open my own series of small businesses in Southern California. In conclusion, there is only one from down and so, therefore, I'm going up. I wanted to leave everyone reading this with a quote from my role model: "The best teacher in life is your own experience, none of us know who we are until we fall. They say every man is defined by his reaction to a given situation." Well, who would you want to define you, someone else or yourself?" -Nipsey Hussle."

Christina Corlano
Bachelor of Science, Business Administration (Human Resource Management)

Christina Corlano will receive her Bachelor of Science in Business Administration with a Concentration in Human Resource Management. She is a long-time accounting major who decided to return to school as her credentials should match her experience. "After graduation, I plan on putting my degree to work for me as hard as I work for it!"

Amandeep Kaur
Bachelor of Science, Business Administration (Health Care Management)

Amandeep Kaur will receive her Bachelor of Science in Business Administration with a Concentration in Health Care Management. After graduation, she plans to obtain her Master of Science in Health Care Administration.

Kosuke Matsui
Bachelor of Science, Business Administration

Kosuke Matsui will be receiving his Bachelor of Science in Business Administration. He was born and raised in Japan until he came to Bakersfield in 2019. He didn't speak English at all when he graduated from high school, but he studied English for a year after graduating high school and joined CSUB in the Fall of 2019.

"I'm going back to Japan and start my career. It is half sad to leave here but half excited to start my career at the same time. I'm looking forward to starting my career in my country and hopefully coming back to the United States for my MBA and work in a few years."

Marco Antonio Medina, Jr.
Bachelor of Science, Business Administration

Marco Antonio Medina, Jr. will receive his Bachelor of Science in Business Administration. He is a first-generation Mexican American. He grew up in McFarland, CA but moved to Bakersfield in the 6th grade. Marco attended Rio Bravo Greeley, then went on to graduate from Liberty High School in 2018. He wanted to attend Cal State Bakersfield because of the struggles his parents faced to get them to where they are today. "My father and I worked in the fields of various agricultural crops throughout the San Joaquin valley which included Grapes, Oranges, Tomatoes, Bell Peppers, and Carrots. Etc. My father went on to start his own company in Farm Labor Contracting. He went from employee to employer, and within 10 years, he steadily grew his business well past his expectations. Today our family business employs 1,200 seasonal workers in the agriculture sector from Lancaster to Fresno. We work hand in hand with companies such as Gimmonway Farms, Bolthouse Farms, Bejo Seeds, and various other companies throughout California. My father's success, failures, struggles, and stresses all motivated me to go on to Cal State and study business to improve the business even more. My father wanted to be an optometrist in Mexico however, he did not have enough money to finish his last semester of school and had to come to the United States to work in the fields to stay afloat. My father was my biggest motivation, and I am proud to be here today 4 years later graduating and being able to say to him "I did it dad thanks to you, onwards and upwards!"

I plan to continue to work in the family business after where you start. I have also received my Harvard Online Business School COPE certification. I plan to continue my education via more certifications from Harvard Business School as well as Cornell and even my SHRM Certification. California State University will forever be my home and I will never forget the hardships and pleasant memories I had here!"

Simren Mudhar
Bachelor of Science, Business Administration

Kosuke Matsui will be receiving his Bachelor of Science in Business Administration. He was born and raised in Japan until he came to Bakersfield in 2019. He didn't speak English at all when he graduated from high school, but he studied English for a year after graduating high school and joined CSUB in the Fall of 2019.

"I'm going back to Japan and start my career. It is half sad to leave here but half excited to start my career at the same time. I'm looking forward to starting my career in my country and hopefully coming back to the United States for my MBA and work in a few years."

Jay Shyamdasani
Bachelor of Science, Business Administration (Finance)

Jay Shyamdasani will receive his Bachelor of Science in Business Administration with a Concentration in Finance. "Coming from India, I never imagined I would get to go to a university here, let alone be an American. I am so proud to call America my home and graduate from CSUB. Go, Runners! I am looking for jobs in the finance industry, in the near future. I see myself as a successful businessman. I am also planning to do MBA after gaining some experience in the market."
