

Distributed Learning Committee (DLC)

General Duties: The DLC is responsible to monitor for issues that arise with regards to the distributed learning policy and to ensure the quality of online and hybrid instruction, including the certification of faculty wishing to teach online and/or hybrid course. The DLC consists of (1) one faculty member elected from each of the academic schools; (2) the Faculty Coordinator of Online Instruction from the Faculty Teaching and Learning Center (FTLC); (3) the Faculty Director of the FTLC; (4) one student representative from ASI; (5) one staff member with direct responsibilities related to CSUB's learning management system (ex-officio). Additional members may be appointed as ex-officio members by the Provost and VP AA at the recommendation of the current DLC members. Faculty members are elected for staggered two-year terms. The student representative will be selected by ASI on an annual basis. The staff member will be appointed by the Provost & VP AA on an annual basis. The DLC reports annually to the Academic Senate.
