

University Program Review Committee (UPRC)

The University Program Review Committee aims to maintain and strengthen the quality of the university's curriculum and its ability to meet the challenges of the future. Meetings are held weekly, at members' convenience as much as possible.

Each member is given three WTUs of assigned time for their service each year of their service. If a committee member is awarded and takes a sabbatical during their term, they will forfeit their position on the committee and an election shall be run by the Academic Senate for a replacement representative to serve during the year of the sabbatical and complete any remaining term associated with the replaced position (University Handbook 202.4.1 and RES 212230; RES 232432).
